ArtEast Public Art Project September - anticipated completion

ArtEast's Fall-for-Art in public spaces looked to the Great Swamp for inspiration. Living in its watershed, and influenced by its natural beauty and vital environmental benefits, ArtEast artists chose a turtle for this year's project. A temporary installation, a large fiberglass turtle, painted by local students and ArtEast artists, will be on display on the Pawling Village Green. Anticipated date for completion is early September. A plan is in progress for the turtle to be exhibited in each town with participating artists.
